Peace monk dies under lawnmower

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

THE chief monk at Willen Lake's Peace Pagoda died yesterday in a horrific accident as he cut the grass.

It is believed Reverend Gyosei Handa, 50, was on a sit-on lawnmower when he fell and became trapped underneath the heavy machine.

A family came across him and called the emergency services.

Rev Handa, best known for his annual Hiroshima Day lantern ceremonies, helped to build the Peace Pagoda in 1980 and has been there ever since.

He presided over the lantern ceremony on August 6.

Firefighters were called to release him from underneath the lawnmower just before 11.40am and police carried out their own investigations.

Yesterday the Buddhist community was in shock as news of the tragedy spread across the city.

Supporters flocked to the temple near the Pagoda, the first to be built in the western hemisphere.

His chief nun Reverend Sister Yoshie Maruta, who has known him for more than 30 years, was struggling to come to terms with his death yesterday afternoon.

As monks from all over the country were offering chants and prayers at the temple last night, she was planning to visit his body in the morgue.

She said: "He never criticised. He was always calm, always listening to people. He had lots of compassion. He would never ask people to do things, but always worked so hard himself. He was always trying to save money. This is why he was cutting the grass himself. If the lawnmower needed fixing, he would do it himself. But I can't believe he was cutting the grass in this weather."

He was due to visit his elderly mother in Japan today to help her move house.

Dr Ajith DeSilva, part of the Buddhist support group, added: "It is a great loss to Milton keynes, to the whole community here. He treated everybody the same, any nationality, any religion."

Rev Handa, who was born in Japan and became a monk in Sri Lanka aged 20, had been arrested in the past for his peaceful protests against nuclear activity.

Rev Maruta said the Buddhist community's belief in reincarnation would help them at this time.

Chadwick Lodge race hate claim

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A NURSE has taken his employers at Chadwick Lodge to an employment tribunal over allegations of racial harrassment.

Father of five Michael Welsh, of Daniels Welch, Coffee Hall, claims he was called a 'stupid n*r' by a colleague during a lengthy harrassment campaign.

He took Barchester Healthcare Ltd, which runs Chadwick Lodge medium secure unit at Eaglestone, to a tribunal on Friday alleging that another employee, Christina Burgui, was in breach of the Race Relations Act 1976.

Mr Welsh, 48, alleges that the racial abuse took place on November 2 and 6, 2006.

He said: "I was extremely tired and fearful of further racial assaults, name calling. The ordinary ones were 'stupid black bastard' and 'fool'. It really caused me a lot of psychological trauma."

Mr Welsh, who has been signed off sick since February, claimed that he was not given the same opportunities as other nurses.

He alleged: "I was told: 'you are very bossy and when black people get into these positions they love to give orders'. I have received absolutely no support, no protection. There is information in the company handbook that I should be protected and I should be treated fairly. That protection has never come.

"You can see the level of villainy. I was living in hopes and dreams that it would absolve itself."

Barchester Healthcare Ltd argued that Mrs Burgui was on holiday in Romania in January – one of the occasions that Mr Welsh alleged she made racist comments towards him.

Mr Chowdhury, representing Chadwick Lodge, said: "As a subordinate member of staff she would have nothing to gain by being abusive to someone who was more senior than her. She could quite easily be disciplined for that couldn't she?"

The case continues.

Public inquiry into M1 widening

A PUBLIC inquiry is being held into the widening of the M1 between Milton Keynes and Luton.

The Milton Keynes Green Party, which strongly opposes the scheme, has welcomed the announcement.

Plans are to upgrade the 15-mile section of the motorway from junctions ten to 13 from three to four lanes.

The Highways Agency received around 100 objections and an independent inspector will now hold a public inquiry.

Alan Francis, Green Party transport spokesman and MK resident, said: "This will give us the opportunity to highlight the damage to the environment and the waste of money that would be spent on motorway widening.

Alan Francis: 'Opportunity to highlight the damage to the environment and the waste of money that would be spent on motorway widening'

"At the same time that the Government claims that it is concerned about climate change and wants to reduce CO2 emissions it is planning to spend £601 million on the widening of 15 miles of the M1 between junctions ten and 13."

The section of motorway carries between 122,000 and 140,000 vehicles per day.

Mr Francis added: "The money could be better spent to improve public transport, for example, re-opening the rail line between Leighton Buzzard and Luton.

A spokesman for the Highways Agency said: "On August 9 we published a notice confirming our intention to hold a public inquiry into the proposals of the scheme.

"The Agency is going to be writing to the objectors and meeting with some of them to talk through their objections."

It is expected that the inquiry will take place in January 2008.

Man beaten trying to save hedgehog

A GOOD samaritan who tried to stop four teenagers attacking a hedgehog was beaten around the head with a wooden plank.

The man saw three boys and a girl kicking and throwing stones at the hedgehog in the redway under the H7 to Monkston at about 10.40pm on Sunday.

When he tried to move the hedgehog away from the gang it curled up into a ball and one of the boys threatened to throw it over a fence.

The man confronted the youths but they turned on him, hitting him over the arm before repeatedly smashing a wooden plank into his face until it broke.

He suffered a black eye, a cut lip and bruising to his left arm, nose and right cheek.

The police are appealing for the parents of the teenagers or any witnesses to contact them.

They described the main offender as aged 14 to 15, 5ft 2ins to 5ft 4ins, thin with fair cropped hair.

He smelled strongly of alcohol and wore a white T-shirt, dark trousers and trainers.

The second offender is about 15-years-old, 5ft 5ins with untidy mid-brown hair, parted in the middle. He wore a camouflage green and grey T-shirt under a thin beige sleeveless body warmer and dark trousers.

The final boy is aged 15 to 16, 5ft 10ins, with fair hair with highlights in it and wore a pale T-shirt and dark trousers.

The girl is aged 14 to 15, 4ft 10ins with a round face and wavy dark brown hair.

She wore a very pale denim jacket and a dark T-shirt with pink and blue rings on it.

Anyone with information can contact the police on 08458 505505.

Lodger charged with kicking landlady

A CITY man has been charged with kicking a 65-year-old disabled woman in the head.

Raymond McQueen, 54, of York House, Far Bletchley, appeared via video link from Woodhill Prison at Milton Keynes magistrates court on Friday.

He pleaded not guilty to assaulting Joan O'Brien by beating her.

Ros Wilmin, prosecuting, told magistrates that Mr McQueen was a lodger at the home of Mrs O'Brien when she alleged that he attacked her on two separate occasions in the space of a week, kicking her in the head each time.

Ms Wilmin said that carers who visited Mrs O'Brien noticed bruising to her face.

But Chris Birchall, defending, said that Mr McQueen has been in a relationship with the aggrieved for four years and acted as her carer.

The magistrates heard that both parties suffer from poor health and alcohol abuse.

Mr Birchall said the local authorities were aware that Mr McQueen was providing care for Mrs O'Brien, who is wheel-chair dependent, despite the fact he suffers from chronic epilepsy since after being assaulted with a scaffold pole.

An appeal for Mr McQueen's release from custody was turned down by magistrates.

The case will resume later next month.

Disabled tot has artwork chosen for pioneering London exhibition

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A THREE-YEAR-OLD who attends a local children's hospice is to have his artwork shown at a ground-breaking London exhibition

Matthew Heard, from Bremen Grove, Shenley Brook End, has had his picture selected by representatives of Bonhams auction house and the Bankside Gallery to form part of a pioneering new exhibition entitled This is Me: The Art of Children.

Organised by the Association of Children's Hospices, the exhibition showcases works of art by children and young people from all over the UK, who won't live to reach adulthood.

The art will also be sold by auction to raise money for the children's local hospice.

Squirt art: Matthew's picture

Matthew, who has severe epilepsy and severe global developmental delay, visits Keech Cottage Children's Hospice, near Luton, with his family and receives care in the home from a Milton Keynes based Keech community nurse.

Matthew, who cannot walk, talk or control his movements and has difficulty learning, painted the picture at Keech Cottage.

"He has poor control of his arms and body, so he used a syringe to squirt the paint onto the page," said Matthew's mother, Carolyn.

"He loves bright colours so he used them in the painting. We often use fir cones, bubbly water; anything that will stimulate his senses," she said.

Matthew regularly stays at the hospice for a few days at a time, providing him with specialist therapeutic care and his family with a chance to recuperate

"Children's hospices do wonderful work and we just don't know what we'd do without the care and support of Keech Cottage," said Carolyn.

"The whole family is absolutely glowing with pride that Matthew's artwork has been chosen as one of the pieces for the exhibition in London."

She said the family, including Matthew's 10-year-old brother Joshua, is hoping to travel down to London to see the exhibition with the help of Happy Days, a charity which provides children with special needs with day trips and holidays.

This is Me: The Art of Children will be held at London's Bankside Gallery from December 4 to 9.

The collection can be viewed, and bidding forms downloaded, online at www.artofchildren.org.uk

3,000 pints of real ale please

Fancy a brew? Dan Bonner

MILTON Keynes has its first brewery.

Aptly titled The Concrete Cow Brewery, it opened at Bradwell Abbey yesterday.

Owner Dan Bonner of Coberley Close, Downhead Park will produce 3,000 pints of real ale a week from his micro-brewery unit.

The former landscape gardener will use traditional ingredients for his own two special recipes which he has also named with Milton Keynes in mind.

He will make Cock and Bull Story and Midsummer Ale using modern brewing equipment which is currently being installed.

Mr Bonner said: "I can make two brews of five-and-a-half barrels of hand-crafted beer a week, or about 3,000 pints as I have two fermenters, and I can make two different brews at a time, using my own recipes."

The Concrete Cow Brewery will sell its cask beer to local pubs.

Mr Bonner, who is more used to brewing using home kits, also plans to bottle his brews to sell at local events, beer festivals and farmers markets.

"I've got about a dozen or so local pubs interested, but I'd rather not say which ones at the moment. The business is classed as a micro-brewery, small beer but large enough to be commercially viable. No more home kits, this is the real McCoy."

He is currently having bottle labels designed.

Fast solution needed for housing drought

SIR – Regarding Cllr Don Hoyle's idea of supplying caravans to the homeless.

I thought it is a great idea to form a solution to the massive problem we have.

There are already caravan parks in Bucks that are privately owned and very nice decent homes, owner-occupiers have taken pride in their homes and they are very spacious.

The only way that it is fair, is that people choose to move to a caravan or use the caravan sites as tempoary accomodation awaiting permanent tenancies.

I have worked with famillies that are homeless. Temporary accommadation is not an ideal situation.

The extreme is that caravan parks can get the reputation of poor people trailer parks, like in America.

Mixed tenure and mixed income is essential to this being a positive solution.

While I agree with Cllr Liz Campbell that families want decent homes, it should not have to be one or two years held up in temporary accomodation, so solutions are needed fast.

Lisa Banks
sent by e-mail

■ SIR – I am writing in response to the article in last week's paper concerning the idea of Cllr Don Hoyle housing the homeless in caravans.

I think it's a good idea that could work, I think what Cllr Don Hoyle is talking about here is temporary accommodation for the homeless of which they can be in for up to two years and is not a permanent solution.

Let's look at the provisions for the homeless now. Whole families living in one-room bed and breakfasts outside of MK, isolated from family and friends, or maybe a hostel where you are allocated one cupboard with a lock on it to store your food in case it is stolen, or a friend's floor, or how about the back of the xSscape building, I think the caravan idea is a better one.

We had a similar situation after the Second World War of a housing crisis where prefabricated housing was put up quickly in order to ease the situation, mobile homes could be used now until new housing becomes available.

Rather than MKC putting a good idea down, maybe it needs to ask the Government for more money to provide decent homes, after all in the last ten years the number of so called social housing being built has been halved under the Labour government, we need to build new council housing in great numbers in order to house people who cannot afford to buy or part own.

Janette Bobey
The Hide, Netherfield

Creeping expansion on the Ouse flood plain

SIR – In the recent local elections the Conservative position on expansion was quite clear: expansion east of the M1 would be opposed, expansion in other areas of MK must be accompanied by investment in infrastructure.

And the final say on expansion must be decided by the people of MK and not an unelected and unaccountable quango, a point reinforced by a national party commitment to make MK Partnership answerable to the council should we take power at a General Election.

The untruth spun by our opponents in the elections was that the Conservative Party supported the conclusions of Bucks County and Aylesbury Vale District Councils' report written by Colin Buchanan.

We are, and remain, opposed to the Buchanan report's conclusions.

The Liberal Democrats point the finger towards neighbouring authorities to disguise their own decision to continue a house building programme that will inevitably see some encroachment onto the flood plains of the Ouse.

It was decided in Cabinet (June 06) to approve the building of 'up to 2000 homes' that 'could be considered as part of the 48,800 homes identified for the Milton Keynes area in the draft South East Plan'.

In other words, creeping expansion around the towns and villages.

When I exposed the duplicity of the Lib Dems' position they attempted to spin the matter by suggesting that the homes would be built not just in the villages but also 'in towns such as Newport Pagnell, Woburn Sands, and Olney' (Lib Dem Focus no98).

As the areas where these houses are likely to be built include the flood plains surrounding the river Ouse, it either makes a mockery of Cllr Potts' statements in your paper about his concerns over the consequences of building on flood plains, or shows him to be out of step with his own party's policy.

It is also worth noting that the minutes of the Stoke Goldington Parish Council meetings in January, February, and March this year all raised concerns about the state of the drainage around the village and the risk of flooding it created.

Given that the rain did not hit until July I wonder just how much warning the council needed?

If I were a resident in Stoke Goldington I would see the offer of a rebate on council tax payments to families forced to vacate their homes while repairs take place as little comfort when there was both time and warning to act and nothing was done.

If I were a resident in the villages affected by flooding recently (not to mention Wavendon) I would be quite angry at the attempts by the Liberal Democrats to once again imply that the cause of the problem is solely one of house building on flood plains when they are content to allow it to happen, at the same time that they did not treat the problem of drainage with the urgency it deserved.

Keith Fraser
Conservative spokesman,
Sherington ward

■ SIR – I sympathise with Cllr Potts' worries about building houses on land swamped by recent floods.

We on the western flank are also worried.

Historically, Calverton has always been subject to flooding. The plan to build 7000 houses on the hill above us ,without adequate flood protection, is alarming in the extreme!.

Shouldn't the Inland Drainage Board reconsider their plans as it seems likely that extreme weather is here to stay.

Dai Evans,
Lower Weald, Calverton

Take a running jump

SIR – Whatever are we coming to? More busybodies, that's what!

To my knowledge, teenagers have been jumping off Tyringham Bridge for decades – it's almost a right of passage for some local lads.

So now this practice is to be banned by petty law. How? Are they going to have a policeman standing there all summer?

Don't the authorities realise that banning jumping will make it even more attractive?

And who are these 'angry local residents', I would like to know? – there are no residents anywhere near Tyringham Bridge.

And what anti-social behaviour, anyway?

All I have ever seen near the bridge in 37 years are high-spirited youths having a bit of fun.

Are they now to be given criminal records?

Peter J Smith

Tory taking us back to Cathy Come Home age

SIR – Having directed hostile rants against more traveller sites last June, swiftly followed by vitriolic comments opposing a housing advice project for MK's Somalian community last August, Cllr Hoyle is once again displaying his sensitive brand of Conservatism.

This time directed against our city's homeless people (MK NEWS, August 15).

The suggestion that homeless families should be dumped in caravan sites around the city would take our social policy back to a very dark age.

Many of us still remember the haunting scenes in the 1966 BBC play Cathy Come Home when Cathy and her family were 'housed' in a caravan.

Cllr Hoyle wants to take us back to the bad old days – no wonder his party leader, David Cameron, must dread receiving his copy of MK NEWS to read the latest outrageous remarks from his maverick councillor.

Homeless families deserve to be treated with dignity and respect.

Dave Brunwin
Pyxe Court, Walton Park

Love's labour's lost

SIR – For a Government partly elected on the education, education, education theme, it is a disgrace that several hundred young people are unemployed in Milton Keynes.

For years there has been a major shortage of apprenticeships and a high level of drop outs from those able to secure apprenticeships. This has seen many apprenticeships now requiring at GCSEs (at C and above grades).

Significant numbers of suitable young people have been denied the opportunity to learn and earn.

It is now easier to find an Egyptologist, anthropologists, biologists, astronomers, Shakespearean experts and similar skills, than a skilled craft worker like a builder.

A lack of apprenticeships and pre-employment courses (E2E) often failing to deliver is not encouraging. E2E is often being seen as too much like school and expecting participants to be happy earning up to £30 per week.

It would be helpful if Connexions staff had a good range of vacancies and training that delivers. Meanwhile, the service has had to cut £120,000 from the 2007/08 budget and lost several posts. While staff face an uncertain future as the council consults on the future and an 'integrated youth support service'.

Chris Wright
Blackmoor Gate, Furzton

Group decision

SIR – Re the resignation of Tony Mabbott as chairman of the Central Bletchley and Industry Neighbourhood Action Group.

A NAG is a group made up of police, councillors, etc and local residents whose aim is to improve community safety, reassurance and reduce crime and disorder.

The group also has the discretion to terminate the membership of any person who does not subscribe to the group's aims.

Slapping and punching a woman to the ground outside a junior school in front of several other parents, as Tony Mabbott did, does not subscribe to the group's aims.

The group should terminate Tony Mabbott's membership and put the interests of the law abiding residents of Bletchley and Fenny Stratford first.

Judge adjourns birdman's trial

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

THE trial of a city man charged with keeping 20 wild birds at his home has been delayed until February.

James Wilson, 59, of Alexandra Drive, Newport Pagnell, began his trial last Monday but by Thursday deputy District Judge Geoffrey Wicks decided to adjourn the trial to cater for the expert witnesses.

Last week at Milton Keynes magistrates, the court began trawling through lengthy reports and evidence from bird experts around the country in an effort to determine whether the birds were wild or captive-bred.

But as solicitors and experts debated the finer points of the subject the decision was made to extend the trial, starting next year.

The RSCPA decided to prosecute after the birds were found during a raid by police in January 2006.

They discovered eight goldfinches, six bullfinches, three chaffinches, two bramblings and a linnet.

Mr Wilson had previously won an award for best British bird at a national exhibition.

Drink-driver rugby-tackled to ground after chase by dog van

A MAN has pleaded guilty to drink driving after a police car chase through Fenny Stratford.

Father-of-two Shane Griffin, of Lanark House, Cumbria Close, appeared at Milton Keynes magistrates court on Friday charged with dangerous driving, drink driving and failing to stop for the police.

As his family and pregnant girlfriend sat at the back of the court, the magistrates heard that Griffin, 28, was spotted by police as he drove a Renault van along Aylesbury Street at 10.30pm on March 9.

Officers said he was showing poor lane discipline by straying over the white line in the middle of the road.

Ros Wilmin, prosecuting, said the police followed the van to a garage forecourt but when they pulled up alongside it Griffin spotted them and sped off.

She said the police pursued the van at 45mph along Simpson Road where it collided with two parked cars, narrowly missing a member of the public travelling in the opposite direction.

Next she described how the car raced over a level crossing at 50mph, straddling the middle of the road.

A nearby police dog unit joined the chase as Griffin raced through narrow streets into Simpson and Tinkers Bridge, where officers saw the van swerve into a dead end.

Ms Wilmin said: "The driver jumped out of the drivers side as the van was travelling at around 15mph.

"He ran off and was rugby tackled to the ground as the car crashed into a tree."

The officer said Griffin smelt of alcohol and a breath test showed he had more than double the legal limit of alcohol in his blood.

He was arrested and also charged with driving while disqualified and without insurance.

In mitigation, Alisdair King, defending, said: "It was not a lengthy course of driving and he was not grossly over the speed limit.

"He took the honourable route and made a full admission. During interview he said his driving was foolish and dangerous."He said he panicked when he saw the police."

A date is yet to be fixed for sentencing.

Father died after car hit tree

A COMPUTER programmer died after his car collided with a tree.

Father-of-two Christopher Wheildon, 30, worked for Hewlett Packard in Milton Keynes.

He died on August 10 in the accident near Letchworth where he lived .

His wife, Michelle, said: "Words cannot describe the shock and pain that we are feeling at the moment.

"He was a loving and caring man, devoted to his family."

£45 of drugs leads to three year's jail

A DRUG dealer has been sentenced to three years in prison after police found him with four wraps of cocaine in a city bar.

Peter Szarek, 23, of Waterside, Peartree Bridge, pleaded guilty to possession of a Class A drug with intent to supply, at Aylesbury Crown Court last Monday.

Szarek was arrested on January 12 after security staff at Lloyds No 1 bar, in the Theatre District, spotted him acting suspiciously.

They detained him and called the police, who found four wraps of cocaine on him – about a gram – with a street value of around £45.

The sentence was aggravated because Szarek was in a bar.

DI Yvette Hitch said: "This sends out a strong message that drug dealing in clubs and bars will not be tolerated."

Landlocked city sailors hold their own in schools regatta

YOUNG sailors from Milton Keynes braved sun, sea and gales to compete in the National Schools Sailing Regatta in Plymouth

More than 260 young people from all over the UK took part in the premier sailing event open to all youngsters aged up to 18.

A team from Milton Keynes schools, sailing clubs and from the council-run outdoor activities centre Caldecotte Project sailed to glory finishing a close second to hosts Plymouth overall.

Graham Foster, team leader from the MKC Caldecotte Project said: "Our intrepid sailors faced the best and worst of the Plymouth weather sun, rain and gale force winds but all thoroughly enjoyed the week both on and off the water.

"All our sailors achieved very good results in their respective fleets which culminated in a fantastic overall result of second place for the team narrowly beaten by the host team Plymouth."

Some of the team star performances were achieved by:

Matt Undrell/Richard Crocker, 29er. Second in Fast Handicap. 36 entries

Joanna Pakes, Laser 4.7. Second in Slow Handicap. 40 entries. Joanna was also awarded the MK&BYSA Trophy for the best performance in the team.

Jonathan Pakes, Laser 4.7. Third in Slow Handicap. Jonathan was also awarded the Felixstowe Plate for having the best performance of an under-14 years old sailor at the event.

Jonathan Pakes in a Laser 4.7

Luke Steaggles, Laser radial. Sixth in laser radial fleet. 60 entries. Luke also received the president's award for his voluntary work at Emberton sailing club teaching young people to sail-race. The award is a week's sailing on 'Sceptre' a 12metre Admirals' Cup yacht.

Christina Wilson was awarded the captain's bowl for her very positive and cheerful attitude both on and off the water and made an outstanding contribution to the team.

MKC assistant director for leisure Paul Sanders said: "This was a fantastic achievement that truly reflects that within landlocked MK we can succeed so impressively.

Next July the National Regatta will be held in Derbyshire and the Milton Keynes team will hoping to recruit a significant number of new sailors to take part in the event.

If you are interested in learning to sail, or are a young sailor wishing to progress in racing, contact Graham Foster at Caldecotte Project on 01908 232042 or e-mail: Graham.foster@milton-keynes.gov.uk

Poppers festival off with a bang

Holy smoke! Father Victor Bullock of St Martin's Church closes his eyes as a Popper starts the festivities

THE organisers of Sunday's Fenny Poppers Festival are giving themselves a big pat on the back following a successful day of festivities attracting more than 5,000 people to the first event.

With rain clouds casting a shadow over proceedings on Sunday morning, the event organisers feared a washout but the rain held off throughout the afternoon and the attractions on offer brought Fenny Stratford to a stand still.

Aylesbury Street was closed off for the first time in living memory allowing locals to enjoy the fun including international food stalls, fair rides and even scuba diving

An historic ceremony made sure the new festival went with a bang with the firing of the Fenny Poppers.

The Poppers are six small ceremonial canons dating back to the 18th century and fired on special occasions.

Local businessman and event organiser, Jon Gregory, said: "The day was a good old traditional fete situated in the heart of the community.

"The local businesses have all worked extremely hard to make this happen and I am very proud to have been part of this historical event."

The day was funded by the local business community without any assistance from the council.

With such an unexpectedly large turn out, the organisers were delighted that not a single incident of trouble was recorded by the police.

Plans are already under way to make this an annual event.

Cabbie in knife-point robbery

A TAXI driver was robbed at knife point after picking up two men from a city pub.

The driver was called to the Enigma Tavern in Bletchley at 1.10pm on Sunday where he picked up one man before driving towards West Bletchley.

As he drove past the police station another man flagged the taxi down and his passenger told him to stop.

But after getting into the taxi, the second man pulled out a Swiss army knife and held it to the driver's back, while the front seat passenger demanded money.

They took the driver's takings and ordered him to drive to Westminster Drive where they got out and ran off into Bolton Close.

Police described the first man as aged 24 to 26, white, about 6ft 3ins, slim with muscular upper arms and short blond hair.

He wore a green and white striped T-shirt, blue jeans and white trainers.

The second offender is in his early twenties, white, 5ft 8ins, slim with blond hair which is slightly longer than the first man's.

He wore a blue jacket and blue jeans.

Anyone with information can contact detectives on 08458 505505.

Pub attack man still in coma

A 52-YEAR old man is still in a coma over two weeks after he was attacked outside a pub.

The man was asked to leave the Lowndes Arms public house in Whaddon at around 9pm on Saturday August 4.

He left with his female partner and was found shortly after suffering from life-threatening head injuries.

He was taken to Stoke Mandeville hospital but was transferred to the adult intensive care unit at John Radcliffe hospital, Oxford.

He remains in a critical but stable condition at the hospital.

Two men aged 40-years-old and 22-years-old have been arrested and bailed until the end of August in connection with the assault.

Anyone who witnessed the incident is asked to call DS Keeping at Amersham CID on 0845 8 505 505, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

Improvements to A5 junction

LONG-TERM road works have begun on a junction of the A5 this week.

Improvements to the A5-H3 Abbey Hill junction started on Monday and are expected to continue until January next year

A Milton Keynes Partnership study of the A5 trunk corridor identified that essential works are required to ensure that the highway infrastructure will be able to safely accommodate the expected increase in traffic volumes until 2016.

Widening work will be carried out on the A5 slip roads and on the approaches to the roundabout.

Traffic signals will be introduced at the northern Great Monk Street and the eastern Monks Way approaches to the roundabout.

Also, the current part time traffic signals at the entrance of the roundabout from the A5 will now operate full time.

Lane restrictions and closures will only take place outside of peak weekday travel periods.

Road users however, should allow more time for their journey if they need to travel when these restrictions and closures are operating.

Prison staff strike threat

STAFF at Woodhill Prison could strike as part of a fight for better pay.

Prison officers across the country have voted for strike action.

Staff throughout the service have expressed their disappointment that the pay award is 'below inflation for the vast majority' and at the Government's decision to stagger the pay increases.

A spokesman for Woodhill Prison said he could not comment on whether it would affect the prison as it is a national issue.

New school for budding stars

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A SPECIAL academy which will train talented youngsters to win places in top-notch performing arts colleges is coming to town.

Come September, Milton Keynes will be home to a unique performing arts school where stars in the making, aged 13-25, will be taught by ex-West End stars from shows such as Miss Saigon and West Side Story.

The academy, which is yet to be named, will be the only part-time performing arts school in Buckinghamshire offering audition-only entry, and has been accredited by The Council for Dance Education & Training.

Each student will have their own unique personal development programme; a tailor made plan to develop them as a performer, in order to give them the highest chance of successfully auditioning for a top college.

The school will be run by Premier Performers, who opened a performing arts school in Milton Keynes in 2005 for youngsters aged 5-18 with little or no experience, alongside professional actors, actresses and musical directors that will be teaching and supporting the school.

The new academy will start by using facilities at the Shenley Brook End School, but eventually the plan is to build a large purpose-built premise to provide training that would resemble high profile colleges such as Tring Arts Eductional, Italia Conti and Laine Theatre Arts.

Students will work intensively from 8.45-5pm each Sunday.

Emma Peploe-Williams, director of performance arts at the academy and ex-Miss Saigon performer said: ''This new school is about finding natural talent in performing arts either through song, dance or acting and nurturing it to become something no other part time school in England has been able to offer.

"As a student on this programme you will continually come into contact with practitioners from the industry who not only train you to the highest standard but also pass on a wealth of experience and advice.

On tap: Choreographer Craig Revel-Horwood, patron of the new school will judge auditions for students

"The courses are designed to develop your technical skills in class and performance, fire your imagination and prepare you for a wonderfully diverse career in performance."

"This is a very exciting school that has never been seen in Buckinghamshire before."

Auditions will be held on September 9 at Shenley Brook End School, Milton Keynes.

They will be judged by patron of the new school, BBC's Strictly Come Dancing choreographer Craig Revel-Horwood, and Maggie Goodwin, choreographer for Miss Saigon and Andrew Lloyd Webber's London production of Sunset Boulevard and Martin Guerre.

Entrants will need to prepare a song, monologue and a dance routine.

Concern over summer drink-drive hike

Superintendent Mick Doyle: 'The summer is a time of increased risk as people drink at parties and barbecues. It is worrying. The message is out there but it's not hitting home'

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

SUMMER drink-drive figures have raised concerns that motorists and young people are ignoring the dangers.

Eighteen motorists were caught drink driving in the city over the last two weeks as part of a national crackdown to reduce the number of people killed and injured on the roads.

Interim results show that between July 30 and August 14, 82 drivers were stopped in Milton Keynes and tested, of whom 22 per cent were over the limit.

Superintendent Mick Doyle, head of the Roads Policing Department, told MK NEWS that people are still not getting the message about the dangers.

Supt Doyle said: "Milton Keynes comes up quite high compared to other areas.

"We've had 18 people caught already and now they are looking at losing their driving licences for at least 12 months.

"The summer is a time of increased risk as people drink at parties and barbecues.

"It is worrying. The message is out there but it's not hitting home.

"The results so far are extremely disappointing but the campaign is running until September 1 and it would be great to see a decrease in the figures in the last two weeks."

In addition to roadside breath tests, officers are also required to test every driver involved in a collision, and offenders could go to prison for six months or pay a fine of up to £5,000.

Another statistic likely to cause further concern is the number of younger motorists who drink and drive.

Supt Doyle said 11 per cent of the drivers stopped who were aged over 25 tested positive, whereas 21 per cent of drivers under 25 tested positive.

He said: "The problem seems to be growing in the younger group.

"We do see them as the greatest risk in terms of deaths on the roads."

The superintendent added that he was encouraged by the number of people who have been reporting drink drivers to the police.

He said: "If you know someone who drink drives and they kill someone and you know you could have done something about it, how will you be able to live with yourself?

"You can call police or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111."

Illegal immigrant caught in under-age alcohol sales blitz

PUB, club and off-licence workers who sell alcohol illegally have been caught in a crackdown on underage drinking.

A total of 338 test purchases were made at premises throughout the Thames Valley region by police and trading standards officers between March and July this year.

On 64 occasions, shop assistants served alcohol to people aged under 18.

In Milton Keynes, police licensing officers worked closely with Trading Standards officers from Milton Keynes Council and conducted 60 test purchases which resulted in nine illegal sales.

Licensing officer Lynn Poizat said: "I'm disappointed that we came across any under-age sales when we conducted our tests. Much work has gone into informing and educating licensees about this issue. As a result of our tests three off-licences will be having their licences reviewed over the coming months."

During another recent search in Milton Keynes an illegal immigrant was discovered to be working at an off-licence and was handed over to the immigration service.

The crackdown is part of a year-long campaign tackling the issue of under-age and binge drinking in Thames Valley.

Inspector John Fox, who led the force-wide investigation, said: "Just 17 per cent of those premises we visited failed to make the necessary age checks.

"That figure highlights the improvements made in the industry in recent years as a result of the ongoing efforts of all involved.

"But it also shows we have more work to do and we already feel that this year-long campaign is helping to make good practice more widespread. "

If a retailer persistently sells alcohol to a minor, the license holder may be prosecuted with a maximum fine of £10,000 or a three month suspension of their licence.

Adults who buy alcohol for under 18s could also receive an £80 fixed penalty notice, or end up in court and be fined up to £5,000.

> As a result of our tests three off-licences will be having their licences reviewed over the coming months

A-level results top class

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

All smiles: Denbigh students Baran Dululoglu, Tom Doidge, Rima Sen, Jason Gibbs and Laura Sterry celebrate their results

A-LEVEL pass rates in Milton Keynes have risen for the ninth year running, to 98 per cent.

Students and staff across Milton Keynes are celebrating as two thirds of the passes were grades A-C.

At Denbigh school there was a 60 per cent increase in the number of A grades, with 70 per cent of its students achieving the top grades.

All 108 pupils at the school passed, and students performed particularly well in Biology, Mathematics, Technology, Art, Economics, Languages, Physical Education and English.

Headteacher Sarah Parker said: "I am delighted with today's results. They are a reflection of the hard work and commitment shown by our students and are a credit to the school.

"I also acknowledge the dedication and work of staff which has helped our students to achieve their potential. Well done to everyone."

Results improved at Leon school and Sports College, with nearly half of the passes at grades A-C. The most outstanding results were in Art and Drama.

Eight students from Ousedale School gained straight A grades in four or more subjects and four of them are scheduled to go to Cambridge University. The school has achieved a 99 per cent pass rate with three quarters of these being higher grades. Results in Geography and Sociology were outstanding with a total 23 A grades.

All of the advanced level Sports students from Radcliffe School passed, with five of the six students gaining merits or distinctions. The pass rate was 100 per cent in both English and Design Technology.

Fourteen students at Shenley Brook End passed all of their subjects at grades A or B, with four gaining straight As. These were the best results yet at the school with a huge increase in the overall average point score.

Eighteen students at Stantonbury Campus gained three or more A grades. Results were strong in Performing Arts, Art, Economics, Communications and Sociology. Both the pass rate and the proportion of higher grade passes rose.

Walton High had its best results yet with a pass rate of 100 per cent. Nearly half of the students in Maths gained a grade A and in 13 other subjects 80 per cent of students gained grades A-C.

Adult learners have also done better than last year. Of the 26 students who took the full A level exams at Adult Continuing Education (ACE) 40 per cent were at A grade, and 65 per cent achieved grade A to C with an overall pass rate of 96 per cent.

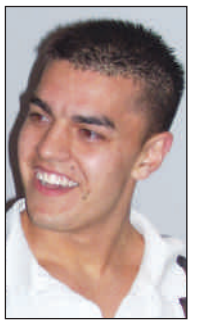
One student, Colin Hughes, has gained one of the top five marks in the country in A level classics and has secured a place at Cambridge University, having started his A level last year with ACE.

Cllr Sandra Clark, Milton Keynes Council cabinet member with responsibility for children and young people said: "I would like to offer my congratulations on behalf of the council to all students receiving their results today and to their teachers for their excellent teaching, support and guidance to their students.

"All have worked very hard to achieve these good outcomes. These results continue the improving trend at A-level. It is good to see a rise in both the pass rate and the proportion of higher grades.

"Our local schools are giving our young people a very good foundation for future study, training or employment and students taking courses through Adult Continuing Education are also being very well served."

Drop-out makes good with place at top university



FOR Zib Sheikh passing his A Levels was like a dream come true.

After leaving the family home to fend for himself three years ago the MK College student never expected he would go on to achieve amazing qualifications, let alone study law at university.

The 19-year-old from Fishermead is celebrating gaining three A grades in law, sociology and biology and has won a place at top Birmingham University.

Zib first started his AS levels in 2004 but after he moved into his own flat he struggled to keep up with the workload and eventually dropped out.

However, despite not having the support of a family network he decided that he wanted to become a lawyer so when MK College agreed to give him a second chance he was determined to succeed.

He said: "The first time around I just had no motivation but after living on my own for about a year and doing nothing I realised I wanted to earn lots of money one day and to get that I would need to go on to further education."

MK College, who recently launched a successful recruitment campaign Make MK Brighter, is celebrating a 100 per cent pass rate in 13 subjects at A Level and has also seen AS level rates rise by 14 per cent.

For details on the college and forthcoming open days call MK 684444 or visit www.mkcollege.ac.uk

Changes to Enduring Power of Attorney Rules

From October 2007, the ability to create an Enduring Power of Attorney will be banished forever.

Existing arrangements will be allowed to continue, but from October 2007 anyone wanting to put control of their money and property into the hands of someone else will have to follow a new procedure.
Neves are advising clients to plump for an Enduring Power of Attorney before it is too late because in October 2007 it will become much more complex. An EPA set up before the changes take place will remain valid.
The point of the Enduring Power of Attorney is to choose someone while you are well to look after your affairs when you aren't.
As things stand you can draw up a basic Power of Attorney to have someone act for you and help with straightforward tasks such as fetching money from the bank. But it runs out once you become unable to manage your affairs.
That's where the Enduring Power of Attorney or EPA comes in. You hand power over your property and money to someone else you trust. The power can start right now while you are well if you want it to, but the important feature of the Enduring Power of Attorney is that it continues when you're unable to manage.

The EPA is to be replaced by a new Lasting Power of Attorney which will come in 2 forms. The first is completely new. It covers decisions over health and welfare. The second deals with property and money as before.
However, the Lasting Power of Attorney will only be valid once it is registered with what's called the Office of the Public Guardian and a new fee paid to the Public Guardianship Office. The new fee is likely to be higher.
Granting a power of attorney is such a significant step that many people prefer to seek the help of a solicitor.
We can provide home visits.

TV cash keeps Paul's West End dream alive

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A PERFORMER has been given £6,000 raised by the BBC's Any Dream Will Do to attend a top London college.

Paul Bullion, 19, from Crownhill, Milton Keynes was one of 20 winners chosen to be awarded part of £150,000 raised by the voting lines of the talent show which starred famous West End producer and composer Andrew Lloyd Webber.

The money was distributed by the Fame Academy Bursary, created in 2003 to allocate the funds raised by public voting.

Paul went through several stages of auditions beating 12,000 applicants from across the country to win the bursary.

He will use the money to attend Arts Educational in London, one of the country's top musical theatre schools.

Paul, who is self-funding his studies and accommodation, must pay £9,500 fees each year.

He said he is delighted to receive the funding.

"It is a huge relief to be honest," he said.

"It will really help me to fund my course."

Paul aims to develop his skills in singing, dancing and acting in order to break into a career in the West End.

"I have wanted to perform since I was a kid," he said.

"I am attracted to musical theatre because of the discipline involved; the amount of fitness you need to dance, the way you need to take on different characters and the practice you have to put in to be a good singer.

"It keeps you on your toes."

He said Arts Educational's musical theatre school is particularly good as the course is well balanced.

"You do just as much singing as dancing and acting," he added.

"It is a good college; 15,000 people audition to get in every year and 98 per cent of those who left recently went into professional shows."

Paul, who grew up in the Poets Estate, Newport Pagnell, moved to Crownhill four years ago.

He has previously completed a diploma in Musical Theatre at Northampton College, and attended the Arts1 School of Performance, an independent theatre school in Newport Pagnell.

Recently he played a leading role as the villain Khashoggi in an Arts1 production of Queen musical We Will Rock You, held at Stantonbury Campus.

He has spent the last year working at MK Theatre fundraising for his studies and also raised £1,000 by organising a musical theatre concert at Madcap on June 15.

He has also been awarded £1,000 a year during his studies by the Lawrence Atwell Charity, which assist young people up to the age of 26 with grants for vocational training.

Paul is now living in Chiswell, London ready to start three years studying at the theatre school on September 10.

Stony hit by vandals

VANDALS have been targeting sports clubs, businesses and houses in Stony Stratford.

Police have appealed for information following repeated incidents of criminal damage at Stony Stratford Town Football Club, the tennis club and other premises near Ostlers Lane and the High Street.

PC Chris Bird said: "We need to put a stop to it. There is evidence of criminal damage, drug use, alcohol consumption and a large amount of litter including cans and bottles.

"This is not only causing concern for the businesses and residents affected but there is a safety issue as the electricity boxes are being damaged and glass smashed onto the grass."

Six 'Specials' join city crime fight

SIX Special Constables will be supporting police officers to fight crime across the city.

The new recruits were welcomed by Chief Superintendent John Liversidge who praised their role in tackling neighbourhood crime.

Special constables (SCs) Rachel Nash, Barnes Thomas, Ellen Whitlock, Lisa Taylor, Helen Roxburgh and Christopher Jones completed 18 weekends of training and are now attached to stations and neighbourhood clusters in Wolverton, Bletchley, Central, South and North Milton Keynes.

Chief Supt John Liversidge said: "It takes someone special to become a Special Constable and we have recruited six new excellent officers. They work voluntarily alongside our officers during their spare time to help improve the community; they play a significant role in policing of the Milton Keynes communities."

Special Chief Inspector Borland, said: "Special Constables are volunteer police officers who work in support of their regular colleagues in meeting local policing needs.

"They have the same uniform and all the same powers as regular police officers. Duty as Special Constable can at times be tedious or frightening but will always be varied and challenging."

Special; Constables Rachel Nash, Barnes Thomas , Ellen Whitlock, Lisa Taylor, Helen Roxburgh and Christopher Jones with Chief Supt John Liversidge, Special Chief Inspector Alistair Borland and Martin Griffiths

Special constables are required to work a minimum of 18 hours a month, supporting officers on patrol and executing warrants.

They work on CCTV operations and support large scale events such as policing football matches at MK Dons.

A fresh recruitment campaign will begin in September.

Applicants must be over 18 and half years of age, a British citizen or member of the EEA, numerate and literate in English and reasonably fit.

Special Constables will be available to chat to people interested in joining at a recruitment stall in Midsummer Place every Saturday from September 1 to 22.

An open evening will take place Tuesday, September 25, at Milton Keynes police station in Witan Gate from 7.30pm.

Bully boy scoops campaign cash

BY ROB GIBSON
rob.gibson@mk-news.co.uk

A TEENAGER who was victimised at school has won an MTV competition to help launch a star-studded anti-bullying campaign.

Alex Holmes scooped an award for £1,000 on the music channel's Grand Idea programme last week.

He beat off hundreds of other enterprising youngsters to win the competition aimed at encouraging young people to make their ideas happen.

Nineteen-year-old Alex began his Heads High campaign at Kingsbrook Business and Enterprise College in Deanshanger three years ago, after he was bullied.

Since then he has been helping a team of 12 student ambassadors to increase awareness by hosting assemblies at schools across the city and running drop-in centres.

Alex said: "I was bullied because I was seen as geeky. There was nothing at school to raise the issue or offer support. My idea was to come up with a mass media campaign using celebrities and short advertisements on national television and radio.

TV winner Alex Holmes

"There was a campaign by the National Anti-Bullying Association in 2004 but I want to create a much bigger one this time."

Alex set to work by signing up support from celebrities including Radio 1 DJ Tim Westwood, Jody Marsh, The Office's Ewen MacIntish, and former Kingsbrook student, GMTV weather girl Clair Nasir and footballers from Manchester United and Tottenham.

He has also been in touch with last year's Big Brother winner Pete Bennett, who was bullied from an early age over his Tourette's syndrome, Alex said: "I'm willing to use the money I have won to turn the idea into a reality. There's still the issue of funding and sponsorship, but with National Anti-Bullying Week not far off, it might just happen.

"It's estimated that half the population gets bullied at some time in their life but we don't really know where to turn.

"There are lots of ways to deal with bullying but we need to let people know where to go and just get people to look out for each other."

As a result of his work Alex has now been offered work experience on the TV show Blue Peter and will begin a university course in social work at Nottingham in October.

Anyone wishing to offer support to the campaign or for more information contact Alex by e-mail at heads_high@hotmail.co.uk or visit www.myspace.com/ heads_high.

House fire arrests

TWO suspects have been arrested in connection with an arson attack on a house in Bletchley.

Fire services were called to a property in The Crescent, off North Street, Bletchley at 8.16pm on Thursday.

One appliance and crew from Bletchley and one from Great Holm attended along with two station managers.

Firefighters used four sets of breathing apparatus, one hose reel and a positive pressure ventilation fan.

Half of the ground floor and part of the first storey of the house was damaged by fire.

The fire investigation dog handler was also requested along with the British Red Cross Fire and Emergency Support Service vehicle based at Bletchley Fire Station.

A spokesman for Milton Keynes Police said nobody appears to have been in the property at the time.

Two people were arrested and released on bail until Friday. Investigations are still ongoing.

Anyone with information please call 08458 505505, or Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555111.

Paws for thought

– fire sniff dogs meet up for a training session

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

FIRE dogs were given training last week.

Barney, Buckinghamshire Fire and Rescue Service's own dog, had ten friends over to play during the session at High Wycombe

Kerry Burns, Barney's handler, hosted the training day to help the dogs and their trainers.

Fire investigation dogs are trained to sniff out anything that an arsonist might use to start a fire, such as petrol or lighter fluid.

They are called in to help investigate fires which are believed to have been started deliberately.

Kerry, a science teacher at Holmer Green Senior School where the training day took place, said: "These training days give the handlers a chance to get together and set up different search scenarios for the dogs. We also share ideas and talk about recent experiences and theories."

When they find something, the dogs indicate by pointing at the source with his nose. Kerry then rewards him for a successful find, and a sample is taken away for forensic laboratory examination.

Dogs have a superior sense of smell to humans and can detect the presence of flammable fuels with greater sensitivity and accuracy than electronic equipment.

They can also search a large area quickly and efficiently without disturbing other important evidence, and reduce both the time an investigator spends on excavating and sampling fire debris and the number of samples required for expensive forensic testing.

While working the dogs wear special boots to protect their feet from sharp objects and harnesses. These tell them they are working, help handlers to keep track of them and allow handlers to attach search lines to the dogs to make sure they are safe and can be stopped from going into areas that are too dangerous.

Barney is a former South Bucks RSPCA dog who was born in 2002. He lives with Kerry and her partner and will remain there after retirement.

She transports him in a specially adapted vehicle.

He is sponsored by Reading-based Aquadoggies,

Man in court on stabbing charge

A 25-YEAR-OLD man has appeared in court charged with stabbing a man in the stomach and chest.

James Ryan Daglish, of Church Lees, Great Linford, was arrested on August 3 following an incident two days earlier when a 53-year-old man was stabbed outside the Forrester's pub in New Bradwell.

Mr Daglish appeared at Aylesbury Crown Court on Monday, charged with GBH with intent and racially aggravated assault.

He was remanded in custody and will reappear in October.

Saddles stolen in barns burglary

THIEVES targeted stables and barns in Milton Keynes on Thursday.

Offenders forced the locks to a stable and several barns in Blakelands at around 2pm and stole four horse saddles, two horse bridles and two mini-motos.

At 8.50pm thieves broke into a barn in Moulsoe and stole a green Yamaha quad bike.

It is not thought that these two incidents are linked.

Anyone with information about the incident can call the police on 08458 505505

MK flying doctor up for award

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

AN air ambulance crew member has been awarded for his bravery while saving the life of a young girl after a dog attack.

Milton Keynes doctor Neil Thomson, who flies with the Warwickshire and Northamptonshire Air Ambulance (WNAA), was nominated by his colleagues for commendation in the Vodafone Life Savers Awards along with crew mates Dr Stuart Maitland-Knibb, paramedic Keith Rutherford and pilot Neil Parkinson.

The awards were launched six years ago to honour unsung heroes, both in the emergency services as well as members of the public, who are behind Britain's most remarkable lifesaving rescues.

The four WNAA crew members have now been named regional winners in the West Midlands heat, one of 12 taking place over the UK.

The incident occurred in November last year, when the crew was called out to a home in Warwickshire where a three-year-old girl, Hope-Tilli Dew, had been bitten by their family pet.

On arrival at the young girl's house the crew was met by an alarming silence rather than the cries they were expecting from an injured child.

They found the girl lying still and unresponsive in the kitchen with her mother trying to rouse her.

There was blood on the floor, walls and ceiling.

The extent of shock and blood loss was extreme and there was a puncture wound to the girl's neck which was no longer bleeding, an indication that she was very close to death.

The team instantly began ife saving treatment. As one doctor attached an intravenous drip, the other initiated a procedure that allows fluids to be administered directly into the bone marrow of the leg.

While making sure everything was in place for a rapid transfer, paramedic Keith Rutherford noticed how cold the child had become and started warming fluids in the microwave, showing awareness under stress and pressure.

While fighting to save her life the crew members were also explaining to her mother exactly what was happening.

The police provided an escort to get the child safely past the large dog and the air ambulance quickly took her to Heartlands Hospital, in Birmingham.

Shortly afterwards she was transferred to Birmingham Children's Hospital where, after vital surgery, she made a full recovery.

Neil Thomson, who works at MK General Hospital emergency department also responds to serious incidents and accidents in and around the city in support of the local ambulance service.

He said: "It is always an honour to be recognised for doing the job we all do, but it is never about individuals it is always the team.

"We are just a link in a chain of survival, we make a big difference in the first moments, but if we don't get a patient to the right place to carry on the treatment there is no point. We are part of a large team."

The crew's entry will now join the other 23 regional winners to go before the national judging panel.

Winners will receive a personal invitation from the Prime Minister to a reception at 10 Downing Street in November where they will be presented with their awards.

Up for it: The crew of the air ambulance with Dr Neil Thomson on the right in front of pilot Neil Parkinson

Three-storey apartment blocks are not to locals' liking

Residents hit roof over homes plans

Derek Eastman: Argues that the development is not in keeping with scale of other buildings

Cllr Andrew Geary: Decision will be a precedent for determining other outstanding applications

Cllr Sam Crooks: Wants all parties to get round a table to clear up conflicting advice to developers

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A CONTROVERSIAL application to build housing in Middleton has been deferred to discuss affordable housing and objections from residents.

The application has been submitted by Crest Nicholson (Chiltern) Ltd, for a residential development of 121 houses and new access from Walton Road, at land at Claridge Drive, Middleton.

The development would include two three storey apartment blocks.

The site, known as Middleton South, is allocated for residential development in the Milton Keynes Local Plan 2001-2011 and, is part of the proposed Oakgrove Millenium Community.

The application was deferred by Milton Keynes Council's Development Control Committee on July 26 to enable the applicant to submit revised plans to address concerns raised by the council's highways engineer.

MK Council has received at least 28 letters of objection from residents against the plans.

The proposals were again discussed at a meeting of the committee last Thursday (August 16).

Derek Eastman, ex-councillor of Middleton ward, attended the meeting to speak on behalf of residents.

He argued that the development goes against planning policy, which states that new developments should be in keeping with the scale of other buildings in the vicinity in terms of height, and due to the heavy traffic that will use the new access onto Walton Road.

"The proposed three storey blocks would be completely out of character with MK Village. There is nothing that high," he said.

"The roofs of the houses across the H7 in Monkston are also level with the road, so it would be like looking up at five or six storeys.

In July MK NEWS reported that the Cabinet decided to finalise a new policy to seek a total of 30 per cent of all new build homes to be affordable, 25 per cent of which will be for social rent and the remaining five per cent affordable homes to buy.

The proposed increase in rented homes was prompted by the findings of a study of housing needs in Milton Keynes by an independent social research company.

The Middleton South application, which was submitted in December 2006, is the first to come to council that was submitted long before the policy changes.

The proposals include plans for seven social rented, 23 shared ownership, and 16 low cost for sale.

According to the new policy the shared ownership should be cut altogether, and there should be far more social rented accommodation.

Cllr Andrew Geary said: "We have changed the balance of social housing significantly in the last few months. What we do tonight will set a precedent for the future when determining other outstanding submissions."

Cllr David Hopkins said: "The new policy on affordable housing is based on real fact.

"The percentage ratio of 25 social rented to five low cost for sale is now set in stone and I think that should be the way forward."

The committee voted to defer the decision for three weeks in order to negotiate affordable housing numbers further with the applicants.

Councillor for Middleton ward Sam Crooks has called for the council to hold a meeting with Broughton and Milton Keynes Parish Council, the applicants and council officers.

"The developers seem to be getting conflicting advice, so I want everyone around the round table to discuss it," he said.

New window on the world after waterbomb incident

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

A WATERBOMB attack has prompted a man to set up a community website.

Bob Oswald, of Holliday Close, Crownhill, was injured when a waterbomb was thrown through his upstairs window in the middle of the night on August 7.

It hit a bookcase in his bedroom, causing objects from the shelves to fall on his head. He received a cut to the head.

Now he wants to find out if anyone else in Crownhill has experienced a similar waterbomb attack.

Mr Oswald, 66, said: "I would love to find out if this was an isolated incident or whether anyone else in the area has had a similar experience. This event in itself is not a big deal, but if it's one incident among many, then some action should be taken.

"I have been a Crownhill resident for 15 years. When I first moved here it was a pretty estate with a quiet, friendly atmosphere. But it seems to me there has been a steady increase in vandalism and anti-social behaviour over the last few years. There's more litter, more discarded cans, cartons and broken bottles lying around. There's more evidence of graffiti, and a lot more damage to infrastructure and properties."

Mr Oswald was surfing the web when the balloon was thrown at 1.15am.

Days later, retired businessman Mr Oswald set up 'Crownhill Today'.

The website is dedicated to providing local news, a forum for residents and contact information for local businesses and services.

Mr Oswald - who has been designing and managing websites since retiring four years ago - said: "That's when it occurred to me that Crownhill might benefit from its own website."

Its includes an interactive map of the estate, free small ads and offers free webspace to local charities, community service providers, clubs and societies..

Classroom discipline call

HARSHER discipline is needed in schools.

That's the view of city MP Mark Lancaster who has given his backing to a campaign to restore classroom discipline.

Mr Lancaster, MP for North East Milton Keynes, has announced his support for a series of new powers for head teachers to impose proper codes of behaviour in our schools.

He said: "Schools should be places where teachers teach and children learn - not holding centres for kids no matter how badly they behave. Most of all, they should be places where the kids respect the teachers."

The campaign, led by Tory leader David Cameron, is striving for appeals panels overruling expulsions to be abolished.

It also calls for teachers to be protected from spurious allegations, giving them anonymity until the case is over, and for home-schooling contacts to be made enforceable.

Mr Lancaster, who would like to see these measures put into local schools, said: "If we want our children to grow up in a loving environment, they need to know they mustn't step over the line. Heads need to be able to impose real codes of behaviour and discipline - and be backed up by parents."

The new powers would also see an end to the closure of special schools which provide teaching for those with learning difficulties.

It's a dog's life

Big or small, young or old, all dogs are welcome at the Big Doggie Do – and you can come too!

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

WHO says you can't teach an old dog new tricks?

Big or small, young or old, bring your dog along to the Big Doggie Do on August Bank Holiday weekend and together you will have the chance to take part in agility or trick training workshops.

City company Dogs in Training, owned by Angela Wilkins from Weston Underwood, is holding agility workshops at the event on Saturday when owners will learn how to guide their dogs along a course through jumps, tunnels, tubes, over the dog walk and by weaving through poles.

On Sunday owners will have the chance to teach their dog new tricks. The trick training workshops will start with basic commands such as sit and lie down and, depending on the dog's ability, may move on to more complex tricks such as roll over, high five and bow.

"We wanted to hold workshops rather than just displays so that people can get involved," explained Angela, who set up the business two years ago.

"People can just bring their dogs along and have a go.

"All the tricks will be based on the dog's natural ability."

The workshops will cost £3, fifty per cent of which will be donated to Willen Hospice.

Instructors at Dogs in Training will also hold a demo before each workshop, and will have a stand at the event where they hope to raise awareness of responsible dog ownership.

"We are trying to promote the Kennel Club's Good Citizen scheme," said Angela.

"This is about encouraging responsible dog ownership, such as cleaning up after dogs and keeping on them lead in appropriate places.

"We will also be giving out biodegradable poo bags."

Angela has loved dogs since she was very young and began training them when she took in her first rescue 16 years ago.

Her training lessons, which are held at Holst Crescent, Old Farm Park, are based on positive reinforcement rather than punishment.

"It is reward based training, but rewards don't necessarily have to be treats; they can be body language or simply just acknowledgement," she said.

"It depends on the motivation of your dog. You have to teach a dog what is expected of him," she added.

"If he knows how to please you easily he will have a big smile on his face."

Dogs in Training offer courses in basic obedience; enrichment courses where dog owners learn how to meet the mental and physical needs of their pet; agility classes and good citizenship.

Happy family: Angela Wilkins' children Allarna and Micheal Wilkins with Baldrick, Macy,Toffee and Muppet

"We also want to do more in schools," added Angela.

"We have been to Puddleduck Pre School and Olney Middle School recently to teach about good citizenship and the children loved it."

Other activities at the Big Doggie Do, to be held at Willen Lake south, include dog displays, guided walks, dog grooming, pet etiquette, stalls, refreshments, treasure trails and plenty of doggie demonstrations.

Fun dog shows will also take place with prizes for best rescue, cutest puppy, look-a-like and scruffs competitions and, a free doggie bag for all contestants.

Enter your dog on Saturday for the best rescue dog or on Sunday for the cutest puppy, dog and owner look-a-like or the seriously scruffy competition. The weekend has been organised by The Parks Trust and Milton Keynes Council and is supported by Cory Environmental.

The event will run from 11am-4pm on both days. All proceeds will be donated to Willen Hospice.

High-flyer is aiming to circle the world

In control: Disabled flyer Gautam Lewis is training for his private pilot's licence

THE world's first disabled solo round-the-world flight could be carried out by a pilot currently in training at Cranfield.

And gaining his private pilot's licence will be just one more challenge for Gautam Lewis who was born in Kolkata, India, where he was abandoned on the streets as a toddler after contracting polio.

Gautam, 30, was one of the lucky ones who was taken to Mother Theresa's orphanage where he stayed for two years before having a further two years of operations at the Rehabilitation Centres for Children just outside the city.

There he met Patricia Lewis, his 25-year-old mother-to-be who took him to Auckland, New Zealand.

When Gautam was nine the pair moved to London where he attended some of the capital's best schools including Bedales.

On finishing school Gautam went back to India later returning to England to the Southampton Institute and opening a nightclub in the city.

During this period he became heavily involved in the music side of the business and in 2001 joined Ricochet artist management looking after artists including Prodigy frontman Keith Flint.

This evolved into a three year period at Creation Management, another young company set-up by Stephen King and the iconic Alan McGee, the driving force behind Oasis. Creation became highly successful and the team experienced the roller-coaster rock 'n' roll lifestyle with Gautam undertaking the full management of bands including The Libertines, The Hives, D4 and The Kills.

As well as sorting out tours, recordings and contracts, extra-curricular activities such as the attempted drug rehabilitation of the Libertines' front man Pete Doherty also came with the job.

In 2006 Gautam turned his energies towards new pastures. Using the skills, contacts and drive instilled from the music industry, he has started a management consultancy that specialises in the charity sector.

Dependent on crutches as a result of his childhood battle with polio and displaying the achievements possible in the face of adversity, Gautam believes this calling will be the most fulfilling yet.

Now he has embarked on his private pilot's licence training, the first disabled flier to do so through Cranfield Flight Training.

The school's head of flight training, David Coulson, has put together a practical programme to teach disabled pilots in a modified PA28-140 fitted with the Vision Air hand control for the rudder and steering mechanism.

Gautam said: "It is a surprise to many disabled people that flying is very much a possibility for people with a range of disabilities, indeed disabled flying can provide a level of challenge and exhilaration that may be difficult to find anywhere else.

"After completing my private pilot's licence and getting many more hours of experience, I hope one day to be a pioneer for disabled aviation.

"My plan would be to be the first disabled pilot to fly solo around the world and the first disabled pilot to fly across the Atlantic and from pole to pole.

"It is extremely difficult for disabled people to go to any flight training organisation or registered training facility and get training.

"I approached Cranfield and found them to be very open minded towards disabled people and they helped me find solutions.

"Nothing was a problem for them unlike other flying schools.

"Once I complete my pilot training I plan to train as an instructor and promote pilot training for people with disabilities - I have set up a not-for-profit organisation called Freedom in the Air which is about new possibilities and new experiences for disabled people in general aviation - please visit http://www.freedom-in-the-air.com to find out more."

This bank holiday Monday come to The George Inn at Little Brickhill for a one stop family fun day which also benefits Willen Hospice too! A raffle for only a couple of quid which is worth anyone's loot, as is the treasure hunt, car wash and the ever famous "name the bear". "The response I have had has been unbelievable said organiser Emma Scott."

The day commences at 12pm and will finish at 4pm giving you some 4 hours of family fun. Proceeds go to Willen Hospice so Support It!!!

Green space on the right track

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

A RECREATION ground in Wolverton is set to receive a £101,000 green makeover.

A site in Wolverton will receive this green lift after a consortium led by Places for People, one of the UK's largest property management and development groups, scooped a £15.6million Big Lottery Changing Spaces grant to regenerate more than 70 neighbourhoods across the UK.

Next to the multi-million pound Royal Train Shed housing development, which is under construction, the area will see the creation of a balancing pond that will provide a new wildlife habitat and wetlands area.

Additionally it will provide a safe and fully accessible area with opportunities for learning through environmental and historical signage around the site, community planting and further areas to expand biodiversity.

David Cowans, chief executive at Places for People, said: "This is an exciting and unique partnership and one which will have a dramatic and lasting effect on Woverton's local environment and its communities.

"Good quality green spaces are essential to the well-being and future of our towns and cities.

"A well designed environment can transform local communities, providing places for people to engage, play and relax.

"They can also have a positive impact on health, increase biodiversity, and help reduce the impact of climate change."

The Green Spaces for People programme is separate from Wolverton Unlimited's Wolverton Green Project, which is using £570,000 from the Department for Communities and Local Government's Growth Area Fund to deliver improvements to green infrastructure through more than 40 schemes in Wolverton, Greenleys and New Bradwell.

The Green Project includes plans for an urban farm and installing a bridge over the canal by the Secret Garden to improve links between Wolverton and New Bradwell. Work is already under way on improvements to canal towpaths and in the Ouse Valley Park in Old Wolverton.

For more information or to comment on the plans e-mail greenproject@wolvertonunlimited.com

Decision day on site for Bletchley open market

THE future of Bletchley market was set to be decided last night.

The market was moved to Stanier Square while refurbishment works started in Queensway.

But traders liked being there so much that they asked Bletchley and Fenny Stratford Town Council for permission to move permanently.

Town councillors were to make a decision on whether they could at their full council meeting last night.

If it is moved, alternative arrangements will have to be made for the Christmas tree and lights which are historically located in Stanier Square.

It has been suggested that these could be relocated to Elizabeth Square. A tree pit with electricity would be required.

Councillors were expected to agree to obtain quotations for this. The finance and general purposes committee has already recommended a permanent move.

Traders presented the town council with a 700-signature petition.

A consultation was carried out by the town council amongst shoppers, traders and retailers, with the results showing a preference for Stanier Square.

A review of the rates paid for the market was also set to be discussed.

City litter slickers

Council recycles street rubbish

MILTON Keynes Council is cleaning up the city streets by recycling street litter.

Government ministers called on all local authorities to follow the lead of councils such as Milton Keynes, London, Cornwall Dorset and Manchester, in using recycling litter bins in the streets.

Ministers want recycling bins, which would accept paper, glass and cans, alongside waste bins on high streets to help the country improve its recycling rates – currently among the lowest in Europe.

Forward thinking recycling officers at Milton Keynes Council have already installed dozens of recycling litter bins across the city.

In addition, the council has gone one step further by devising a method for its street cleaners to recycle as they go believed to be one of the first such schemes in the UK.

On daily routes a team of 30 litter pickers have been using barrows that have been divided to separate out recyclable litter while in the past on other less frequent routes cleaners would have used a single black bag to collect litter.

Cllr Douglas McCall, cabinet member responsible for environment said: "In Milton Keynes we are always keen to explore any avenue to increase our recycling rates and play our part in stopping so much rubbish going to landfill.

Can the can: Cllr Douglas McCall checks out one of the recycling bins

"I am delighted that the Government has recognised that the initiatives we have already put in place in Milton Keynes should be adopted by other authorities across the UK."

Every year tonnes of rubbish from the streets goes to landfill and that is why the council has identified ways to recycle street litter.

To date more than 12 tonnes of street litter has been recycled and removed from landfill.

Milton Keynes Council is one of the leading local authorities for recycling household waste achieving nearly a 36% success rate and is working to improve recycling awareness across the city.

Households in the UK send more than 26.8 million tonnes of rubbish to landfill every year the equivalent of almost half a tonne for every home in the country, according to research by the Local Government Association.

What's for lunch? Walk-in whitening and stain removal is coming for shoppers and office workers

Taking the stain

BY ALICIA BABAEE
alicia.babaee@mk-news.co.uk

LUNCHTIME nip-tucking is coming to thecentre:mk.

Shoppers and office workers will be able to buy themselves a Hollywood smile in their lunch-break as of Friday.

Superdrug in Milton Keynes is one of just three in the country to bring cosmetic treatments to their stores.

The pharmacy chain will have its clinics staffed by dental professionals.

Until now, cosmetic treatments such as whitening and stain removal have mainly only been available from expensive private dentists and specialist clinics.

Superdrug can complete its in-store teeth whitening treatment in 80 minutes, at a cost of around £350.

It claims to whiten teeth by anything up to ten shades lighter.

Other treatments available include stain removal to get rid of wine and cigarette traces at £35 for 20 minutes, and a clean and polish by a hygienist at £45 for 30 minutes. here are also options of a 40 minute full mouth freshener for £50, which removes 'tongue coating'.

Superdrug insists it aims to supplement basic dental treatments rather than trying to replace dentists.

Jeff Wemyss, the firm's trading director, said: "We don't expect customers to stop going to their usual dentist but to use our services as an addition to their normal dental routine.

"We see our role as adding a little sparkle and shine to customers who want a convenient and good value alternative to 'designer' cosmetic dentistry clinics."

CIRCA 1967:

Works from the Arts Council Collection

Milton Keynes Gallery

Until September 9

TO mark the occasion of the 40th anniversary of Milton Keynes, Milton Keynes Gallery presents an exhibition of paintings and sculptures selected from the Arts Council Collection, that were made circa 1967. The exhibition provides the opportunity to revisit the tastes and styles in visual arts prevalent at the time of the city's birth.

The exhibition brings together the work of seventeen artists that embraces the legacy of British Modernism, the influence of Pop, the weight of American Abstraction and the early flourishing of British Op Art. There are key and influential artists included in the selection of works: a figurative painting by David Hockney sits alongside the large, vivid and abstract canvases of Joe Tilson, Robyn Denny and Michael Kidner.

MUSIC REVIEWS

MERRYMAKING AT MY PLACE
Calvin Harris

OH dear, there really isn't very much to this one at all? I'm not saying there was an awful lot happening on his previous two singles, it's just it's more obvious here.

One single drum loop, one or two bass riffs and a bit of singing that's almost as repetitive as the tune itself – mix 'em all together and hey presto, you've got Calvin Harris's new single.

Deeply, not to mention incredibly, average stuff.

GIRLS AND BOYS IN LOVE
Rumble Strips

THE last time I looked, this band was still bereft of a Top 40 single. Well, if this doesn't break their duck then I don't know what they've got to do in order to succeed.

This is an unashamedly happy sounding tune, and by that I mean it's upbeat and cheerful, and thankfully not so happy you could imagine it being played during a round of musical chairs, mainly because the lyrics aren't quite as chipper as the tune.

It's fairly safe to say I wouldn't be dishing out such a positive write-up if this was a tune you could remove chairs to. Nope, this is that rare thing – a genuinely jolly song that I can listen to without needing a bucket handy.

WE COULD BE HAPPY
SixNationState

BLIMEY, another happy jolly tune. And, unlike the Rumble Strips, there are no catches with the lyrics – this is happy, happy – joy, joy all the way through.

It also sounds an awful lot like the sort of jingly-jangly indie guitar pop singles that the 1980s were so good at producing.

This is two cheery numbers in a row that I've liked now, and I'm seriously starting to wonder if I'm turning into my parents. Help.

SEXY? NO NO NO...
Girls Aloud

WHAT the Hell is this? A nice slow start (that's obviously building up to something much faster and harder sounding) ruined by having what sounds like a female Speak and Spell singing over the top, and then when it does speed up the lyrics are all over the place.

If a song has a stupid title, there's a reasonable chance that the song itself is also going to be of a debatable quality, and that's what's happened here.

There's one riff repeated nearly all the way through and the verses and chorus (or choruses) are so randomly laid out there's no way of working out what's what. Worst of all, when it ended I was thinking, 'you what? Where's the rest of the song?'.

I like pop singles to try something different, but this really is shockingly dreadful.

OVERKILL
Kosheen

BLIMEY, Kosheen, now there's a name I haven't heard in a long, long time.

They did some really good stuff a few years ago – Catch and Hide U are the two songs that spring to mind. But, for the best part of four years, they've been very quiet.

This is a dancey song with a bit of an attitude but there's something about the wailing guitar during the chorus that makes this sound like a remix of a harder and rockier track. It's not drum 'n' bass this time either. Yep, this'll do nicely.

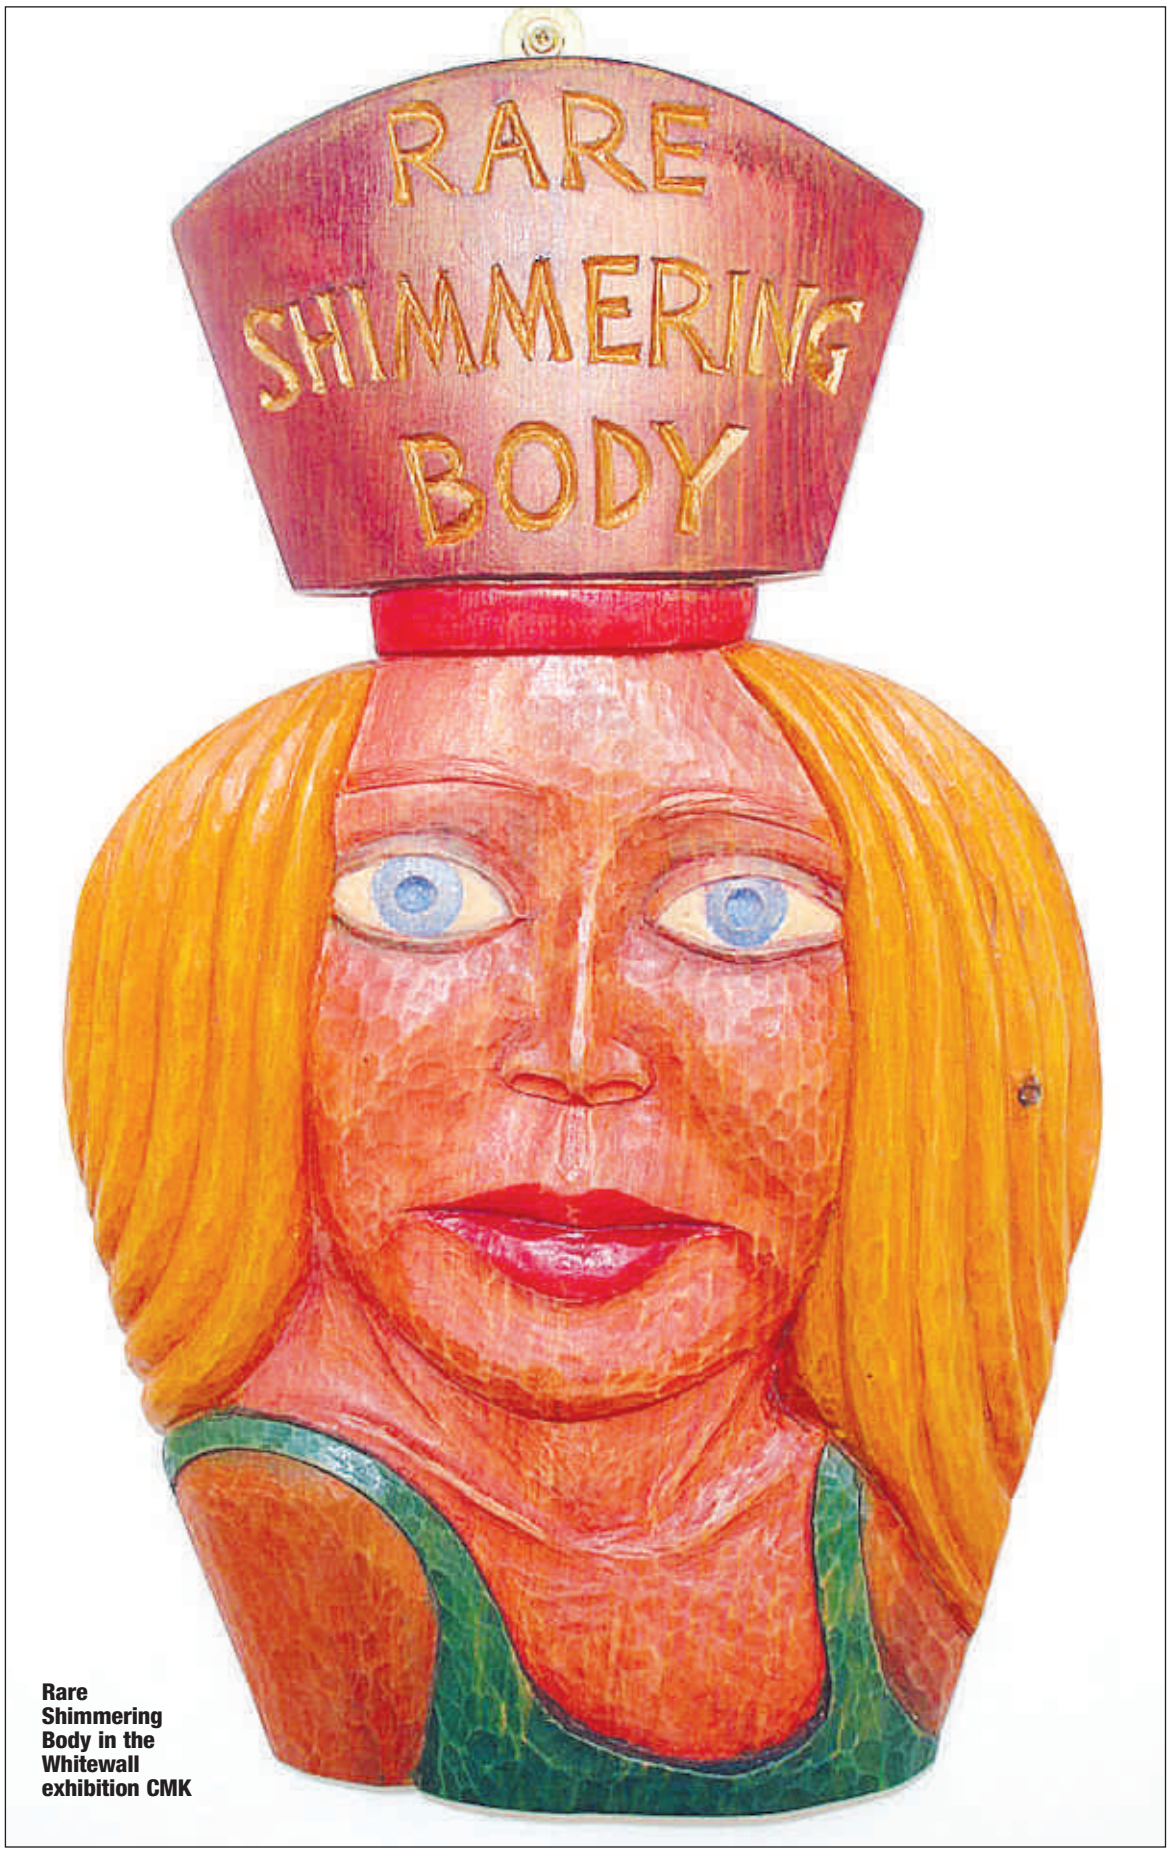
ARTLIFE



Rare Shimmering Body in the Whitewall exhibition CMK

DESIRE

Milton Keynes Contemporary Whitewall, thecentre:mk
Woodcarver and artist Jeremy Turner presents work that exemplifies and exposes the excesses and opulence of retail
Until October 14

JEREMY Turner's exhibition features colourful wooden carved relief objects that illustrate the excesses of retail and materialism.

He has used, as his source, aspirational objects that sustain an urban, motorised, shopping culture - cars, shop window displays, advertising, watches, mobile phones, handbags, shoes and cosmetics.

As our civilisation gets even more complicated, manufactured, promoted and discarded, it's a rare treat to be reminded of the techniques and craftsmanship that artists have for centuries been exploiting to make sense of the ever-changing world. Historically, communication created through stories, pictures and carvings give ancestral communities icons on how to interpret the world. Turner uses these totems of consumerism inspired by our complex and quickening lifestyles. The carvings, reminiscent of tribal languages, seek to restore our memory of the skill and resources of our ancestors.

He said: "Milton Keynes sustains my current creative flow as an artist, with its uniqueness, its newness, its blend of steel and glass, roundabouts and flowing traffic, the abundance of open space, trees and greenery. Its very lack of density is both its beauty and its leg-exhausting bane, especially if you are a pedestrian.

"I see a shopping temple with satellite estates for its acolytes surrounding it. I come here to watch the ritual of shopping, to participate in it and observe those who partake in the sacrament of shopping"

Jackie Tracey, Commercial & Events Manager at thecentre:mk said: "Aptly and ironically, this exhibition takes place inside a shopping centre and mirrors the very subjects present in Jeremy's work. With projects like these, where artists present a variety of themes in different media, thecentre:mk demonstrates that there is more to the shopping centre than retail alone."

Jeremy works primarily in wood, producing carved relief panels, signage, 3D constructions and carved wood ware, and frequently completing these with colour. He has exhibited widely and enjoys sharing his skills with adults and children at summer schools, weekend workshops and evening classes. He has worked in Milton Keynes for over 20 years, producing town and shop signs, panels, carved benches, handrails and sculptural screens and other bespoke commissions.

BROUGHTON FISH & CHIPS

Tanfield Lane, Broughton
01908 239100
Reviewed by MK NEWS newsroom (but not our sub whose day off it was and who's not well pleased at missing out)

AS you walk into Broughton Fish & Chips you are greeted with a wonderful smell and pleasant, clean environment.

It is easy to see how they recently achieved an award for exceptional standards in food quality and hygiene.

Owners of the shop on Tanfield Lane, Stephen and Deborah Wilding, were presented the Seafish Friers Quality Award only four months after taking over the shop.

Mr Wilding said they were delighted to receive the award. "There are over 12,000 fish and chip shops in the country, and only 620 have this award," he said.

The couple previously ran a chip shop in Biggleswade, which was regional winner for central England in the Fish & Chip Shop of the Year Competition two years running in 2005 and 2006.

They are keen on keeping their business environmentally friendly so recycle their packaging material such as cardboard, glass and plastic; source their fresh fish from a sustainable stock; source their potatoes locally where possible and use state-of-the-art environmentally friendly equipment.

They can also cook vegetarian burgers in a special pan away from any meat products and, they freshly chip their potatoes every day.

Several of my colleagues tried the cod (£3.60 for regular or £4.10 for large), another tried the haddock (£4.20) and I had a jumbo battered sausage (£1.40).

All said the fish was fresh and delicious, the batter was subtle and crunchy and the chips (from £1.20) were perfect.

To accompany the meal was also had mushy peas (70p) and curry sauce (£1).

The shop also offer fresh plaice, rock and skate, burgers (£2.35), pies (£2.20), chicken (from £2.50), and kids meals including chicken bites, real fish bites and sausage for £2.50.

They are open for lunch Monday to Saturday from 11.30am until 2pm and for dinner 4.30pm until 10pm.

We would certainly suggest a visit to this top notch chip shop.

Adults learning and work advice centre top of the class in Ofsted report

NEXTSTEP, a free local service, offering information and advice to adults on all aspects of learning and work across Milton Keynes, Oxfordshire and Buckinghamshire (MKOB) has received a glowing government inspection report from the Office for Standards in Education (Ofsted).

In its recent report, Ofsted awarded all aspects of the nextstep service the second highest mark of Grade 2. This is a tremendous achievement for nextstep in the MKOB region and it is one of only two nextstep services across the country to be awarded such a high grade across all areas of assessment.

Ofsted found that nextstep MKOB has a very effective information and advice helpline, has very good productive joint working partnerships and initiatives and uses very good strategies to overcome clients' perceived barriers to entering training or employment or learning. Advisers are described as 'very knowledgeable' and inspectors found the service across the MKOB area to be wide-ranging and highly accessible.

Adult Guidance Services Manager, Lyndsey Whitehead said: "I am delighted that Ofsted has confirmed for us our opinion that we are providing a quality information and advice service to people across the MKOB region. Our advisers, subcontractors and their supporting management teams work hard to help people who have issues related to learning and work and we do see the impact this work has on our clients' lives. We make a positive difference to very many of our clients and it is great to see that this has been recognised by Ofsted."

“I can’t remember the last time I had a confrontation – if you treat everyone with the same respect, they are more likely to respect you

Woodhill Prison officer Sharon Beer

BY LAURA HANNAM
laura.hannam@mk-news.co.uk

IF you are looking for a challenging job full of variety then a career as a prison officer could be for you.

I spent an afternoon with Sharon Beer, who has worked in the prison service for 17 years, to find out what attracted her to a job that might make many women nervous.

She explained that, after being a nanny for many years, she followed in the footsteps of her father in her quest for a challenge.

“I wanted a job that offered something different, where you are not just office bound,” she said.

After passing an entrance exam and interview and completing basic training, Sharon, who was then living in Liverpool, moved to London to work at Feltham Young Offenders Institute in Middlesex as a prison officer.

She moved to Woodhill in Milton Keynes, a category A prison which holds 807 prisoners – 50 of whom are category A offenders – in June 1990.

She has worked in several departments including security, reception, and the induction unit, as the service encourages its employees to try something new every two years.

She is now working in the First Night Centre, a new scheme which aims to reduce suicide rates by providing prisoners with support during their first 24 hours in the prison.

The centre, which opened in April, can accommodate 40 inmates and provides a specialist area where prisoners receive information about prison life and where officers carry out interviews to find out detainees’ needs and carry out risk assessments.

Sharon said she enjoys the pace of the department.

“It is different every day; you are constantly having to deal with different characters,” she said.

“Yesterday I had a really quiet morning, but today has been so busy dealing with a variety of problems.”

As well as dealing with everyday chores such as unlocking for meals and sorting applications, Sharon also handles all kinds of incidents in the day-to-day running of the prison.

On the day I met her she had that morning dealt with a prisoner who she believed might have mental health issues.

After spotting the potential problem she referred the inmate to the correct specialist.

“Later a prisoner also came to me quite disturbed about his dog which had been put into kennels,” she said.

“He was concerned his little girl wouldn’t get the dog back, so I contacted the kennels and made sure everything was OK.”

Sharon, who was one of the first female prison officers at Feltham when she joined the service, said she has had to be hard-necked, but that she enjoys the challenge.

“Every prison officer will go through a point where they are terrified, male or female, they wouldn’t be human otherwise,” she said.

“It is the kind of people we are working with, some will get hot-headed and angry.

“But it is the way you deal with these people that counts; if you can talk to them and bring them down you can be chatting to them within 24 hours.”

She added: “I can’t remember the last time I had a confrontation – if you treat everyone with the same respect, they are more likely to respect you.”

Sharon is now one of 66 female prison officers at Woodhill prison.

The establishment, which is one of the biggest employers in Milton Keynes, provides jobs for 750 people, including 300 prison officers.

Sharon added that the position provides flexible hours which allow her to ferry her six-year old son around, and gives many chances for career progression.

MKMOTORING

Honda's new Civics take family hatch motoring to a new 'want one' level

AWARD-WINNING performance has never been so affordable.

All you need to do is take a test drive to appreciate just how good the current Honda Civic range really is. This car marks a new generation of family hatches.

In times past, despite the success of the excellent Type-R version, the rest of the Civic range would rarely appear on the radar of anybody under 50 years old.

Majoring on impeccable practicality, space and reliability, this family hatch was loved by its owners but perhaps a little short on inherent 'want one' factor. This was one of the key changes Honda had in mind with the development of the eighth generation Civic.

Buyer behaviour has changed and Honda is reacting to this shift. Bucking the trend for successive Civics to be bigger and heavier than their predecessors, the latest car is significantly more compact than the seventh generation model.

Overall length is 35mm less and the car stands lower by the same amount. In order to create a more dynamic stance, width has increased by 65mm.

It's this change in dimensions that give the Civic its rather pugnacious demeanour.

The detailing is very neat, with a repeating triangular theme appearing on the front fog lights, exhaust pipes and rear trim.

Many manufacturers have tried to combine sharp angles with rounded curves and the results haven't always been very happy. The Civic shows how it should be done. Although the car has a coupe-like roofline, look carefully and you'll spy blade-thin door shutlines and a handle concealed into the glass. Yes, this is a full five-door.

Whereas the old Civic five-door was a rather frumpy thing, this model is far sassier – though if you don't agree, there's the option of going for one of the sportier Type-S or Type-R three-door models.

The adventurous styling doesn't stop on the outside either.

Where the previous generation Civic introduced a lot of new ideas when it came to packaging, the eighth generation Civic again offers a novel approach.

The dashboard is designed on two levels, the main instruments housed on the nearer one with a surrounding 'tier' that includes auxiliary functions like stereo, heating, ventilation and trip meter.

This sophisticated, three-dimensional feel to the fascia is backed up with quality materials and interesting textures.

All versions of this Honda are generously specified, with the top models featuring equipment usually only found on far bigger cars. Standard across the range are features like climate control air-conditioning, Vehicle Stability Assist (VSA), trip computer, front, side and curtain airbags, rake and reach adjustable steering column and rear 'Magic' seats.

High grade models feature innovations such as automatic lights and wiper functions, high intensity discharge headlamps, Dual Zone Climate Control and retractable door mirrors, in addition to options such as alloy wheels, DVD satellite navigation and leather trim.

Previous Civics have built a reputation for Honda as being amongst the safest cars in their class and this car continues the theme.

With a stronger body structure and subframes, recessed pedals, double pretensioners on the front seatbelts and side curtain airbags, this car has achieved a Euro NCAP five star result for front and side impact safety, three stars for pedestrian safety and four stars for child protection safety.

SHREWSBURY TOWN
League Two
Saturday, August 25. KO 3pm
stadium:mk

WHEN the fixtures were announced there were three ties MK Dons fans were looking for, first game of the season, last game of the season and Shrewsbury at home. The two clubs have developed a strong rivalry, which was made even stronger when the Shrews broke the hearts of thousands of Dons supporters by denying them the chance of promotion in the play-off semi-finals.

The Shrews have had a strong start to the new campaign, picking up a maximum six points from their opening games. Dons are still without Drissa Diallo, right, who serves his final of his three-match-ban, which could pave the way for new signing Danny Swailes.

SHEFFIELD UNITED
Carling Cup 2nd Round
Tuesday, August 28. KO 7.45pm
stadium:mk

FOLLOWING the Dons' heroics in the first round against Ipswich Town, they have been handed another tough tie against Sheffield United.

But with the advantage of being at home and having fought right to the end in the previous round, the Dons will know that anything can happen.

Bryan Robson's side beat Chesterfield 3-1 to set up the tie against the Dons.

Should it be tied after 90 minutes, the game will go into extra time, with two 15 minute periods, if it remains square after 120 minutes of open field play, the sides will battle it out in a penalty shoot-out.

MATT Carbon and Michael Branch have both been given another week to impress boss Paul Ince.

With Danny Swailes signing it did look like the writing was on the wall for central defender Carbon, but the 32-year-old played in yesterday's reserve game with a hope of penning a deal with the Dons.

Former Everton striker Branch has also had his trial period extended, with Ince hoping he reaches full fitness, to show his full potential.

MK DONS under-18s started their Premier Academy League campaign, with a 1-0 defeat away at Barnsley.

Barnsley took the lead in the 29th minute and despite the Dons' best efforts they could not get back on even terms.

But academy coach Mike Dove was keen to point out his team are improving, he said: "We were making life hard for ourselves at times, giving the ball away and not really getting tight enough.

"We were keeping good possession and I thought if we improved in these areas it was a game we could get something from. I said to the players, they need to show genuine desire to get on the end of those chances. Don't just be in the box, you have to really want to get on the end of something."

A TRIP to Southend ended in a 2-1 defeat for MK Dons reserves.

Mustapha Carayol's strike had put the Dons ahead in their Pontins Holidays Combination League opener, but the Shrimper hit back with two of their own.

GARETH Edds has been named in the League Two team of the week.

All eyes on Andrews as he fires in the first

Cameron cracker puts first point on board for Dons

BY SIMONE CORGAN
simone.corgan@mk-news.co.uk

ONE keen onlooker during MK Dons' 3-3 draw with Macclesfield Town was new signing Danny Swailes.

The former Macclesfield defender has admitted he had 'split loyalties' as he watched his new side battle it out against the club he spent the last two years playing for.

Swailes said: "It was a strange feeling going back there after just signing for the Dons, there was a split loyalty thing going on."

Despite becoming an ever-present member of the Silkmen's squad, the decision to join the Dons came as an easy one for Swailes.

He said: "It wasn't really a difficult choice, I came here with the hope of winning something and last season I worked with the Gaffer at Macclesfield – he was another big factor for me coming here."

There were plenty of old faces at Moss Road on Saturday and Paul Ince, who was returning to the club he saved from relegation last season for the first time, was certainly prepared for coping a fair bit of stick.

While the home fans were chanting abuse at their ex-boss, the real insult for Ince was seeing his side slip from a goal ahead, to 3-1 down.

In almost identical fashion to the opening game against Bury, Keith Andrews had opened the scoring for the Dons in the 20th minute, but it was all a little to easy and the players began to relax.

Not a good idea when you have a club who are among the favourites to get relegated snapping at your heels.

Of course with every game there were moments of controversy, none more so than when Andrews was outrageously wrestled to the ground by Francis Green, and when the Dons skipper protested at the penalty not being given, he was promptly shown a yellow card.

Luke Dimech's strike ensured the scores were level at half time, and fans were left wondering whether the Dons had forgotten about the restart when Martin Gritton and Green put the hosts into a shock lead.

But all was not lost for the Dons, there were still sparks of talent throughput the team and striker Leon Knight is continuing to impress up front after he pulled one back and the side continued their desperate search for an equaliser.

They say cometh the hour, cometh the man and that is exactly what Colin Cameron did in the last minute of injury time, with a stunning shot.

By Cameron's high standards it was not one of his better games in a football shirt, yet he kept his head up right to the end to salvage a point for the Dons, their first of the season, and uplift Ince's spirits as the bench celebrated the last minute goal.

Jude's law: Stirling makes his presence felt in the air in the game against Macclesfield on Saturday

How's that gaffer? Paul Ince looks on as Jon-Paul McGovern gets the ball away from Francis Green

FANS' FAVOURITE WRITES FOR YOU

PAUL MITCHELL

FOR anyone who thought that the season was going to be dull and full of nil-nil draws, I think the first few games have proved that opinion wrong!

I think it's safe to say that we as players would be more than happy to win one-nil every week. For anyone that wasn't at the game on Saturday, it was very similar to the game against Bury.

We started brightly and never really looked in any danger, I have to say that Keith Andrews has started the season where he left off last year with another great goal. It was also great to see Leon on the score sheet again having looked so sharp since the beginning of the season.

After coming off the pitch having just scored a late equaliser the lads could be forgiven for celebrating but as we all know that the Gaffer won't stand for anything less than a victory even at a tough place like Macclesfield, but this is what makes him stand out.

For the fans that did go to the game Saturday I have to say you were absolutely brilliant and never let the lovely northern weather dampen your spirits or voices! As you will probably know, it's Shrewsbury this week and hopefully our first win and a bit of payback for last season.

I took a bit of stick on Saturday off the lads for a few choice words in the Macclesfield programme but I must say the lads took it all in jest even if there was some looks that could kill from Leon and Lloydy.

It's definitely going to be a tough Carling Cup game, having to play another Championship team again in the shape of Sheffield United. If the game is half as good as Round One I can't wait.

I have to say that every time someone comments on my column I always get asked the question do I actually write it? The answer is YES I DO!

Hope to see you all at the next match on Saturday making it an uncomfortable atmosphere for Shrewsbury and turning stadium:mk into the fortress we know it could be.

Before I go just a little update on my injury: No crutches! But a very dodgy limp! MITCH

Weather sinks Mentmore

MORRANTS FOUR COUNTIES LEAGUE

DIVISION ONE

POURING rain in August has cost Mentmore their place in the division, as they were relegated after their game against MK was rained off.

With two weeks remaining everything is to play for as Eaton Bray lead Great Brickhill by two points at the top of the table.

DIVISION TWO

TRING Park are now 16 points clear of Aspley Guise at the top of the table, after their game with third placed Olney Town was abandoned.

Turvey's hopes of survival are looking increasingly slim , despite claiming 11 points for their cancelled game against Aston Clinton, they remain 44 points afloat at the bottom of the table.

DIVISION THREE

OPEN University's game against Eaton Bray was a non-starter, but they picked up 15 points which keeps them just two points ahead of Shenley Church End at the top.

Steeple Claydon are still hanging onto their place in the division, as they are now just 19 points adrift at the bottom.

DIVISION FOUR

NORTH Crawley stay top after sharing 12 points with Stoke Hammond although Whitchurch are still chasing for the top spot as they are just 13 points behind.

Bottom placed Old Bradwell were struggling in their game against Milton Keynes when the game was stopped, they are 40 points behind Harlington with a game in hand.

DIVISION FIVE

MK City's 12 points from their rained off match with Cublington was enough for them to clinch promotion, Printers look set to join them after they picked up 13 points from their game against Little Horwood.

Stewkley stay at the bottom after their game against Milton Bryan did not start.

DIVISION SIX

NEWPORT Pagnell Town 2nds now hold an eight point lead over Ivinghoe and Pitstone following their meeting at weekend.

Cubington and Eggington are propping up the bottom of the table.

CHERWELL LEAGUE

MK Park's game against Buckingham was pulled because of the bad weather, they now have three games left against lower league opposition to save their division one status.

NORTHANTS LEAGUE

STONY Stratford's game against Rushton was abandoned when Stony were struggling at 115-9, next week they will hope to bolster their league position against Finedon Dolben.

ICE HOCKEY

Deal for the man they love to hate

WITH just over a week to go before MK Lightning are back into action, players Barry Hollyhead and Michael 'Muzzy' Wales have penned new deals with the club.

Both players returned to Lightning last season after short stints with clubs elsewhere, and player-coach Nick Poole has admitted he wants Wales to be 'one of the most hated players in the league'.

New deal: Muzzy Wales has signed for Lightning stating he wants to be one of the most hated players in the league

Wales rejoined Lightning from Elite League's Coventry Blaze but he initially struggled in his return and Poole is hoping he sets he league alight this time round.

He said: "When he came back to us at Christmas his confidence was down and it took him some time to get back to playing the way both he and I expect.

"I thought he finished very strong and I will be looking for that from the season's start.

"He needs to play with controlled emotion and intensity every night and I know he is chomping at the bit to get the season under way.

"I want him to be one of the most hated and irritating players in the league next year."

Netmider Hollyhead was one of Lightning's stand out players last season and Poole was glad to see him put his name down for the new season.

Poole said: "He is one of the most consistent and reliable netminders in the league.

"Barry is efficient and above all he has the trust of his team mates which I feel is the most important aspect of any goalie.

"I know Barry is excited to be coming back as the starting net minder and he is also aware that he is going to be pushed by David Wride."

■ LIGHTNING take on Romford at home on Saturday, September 1, face-off is at 7pm. The return leg will be played the following day, face off is at 5.15pm.

BADMINTON

Champs beaten in straight sets

GAIL Emms and Nathan Robertson surrendered their mixed doubles title as they crashed out of the World Championships in Malaysia.

The Milton Keynes residents lost in straight sets, 21-13, 21-16, in the quarter-finals to Indonesia's Flandy Limpele and Vita Marissa.

The pair are currently Olympic silver and Commonwealth gold medallists lifted the crown last year but could not replicate their success.

Emms and Robertson had been given a bye in the first round, and beat Americans Howard Bach and Eva Lee 21-15 21-13 and needed a third game to beat Koreans Lee Yong Dae and Lee Hyo Jung 21-18 8-21 21-16.

But Limpele and Marissa, who were seeded sixth in the competition, were too strong for the duo.

Emms, who is due to retire after next year's Beijing Olympics, also suffered heartache in the women's doubles with partner Donna Kellogg.

The reigning European champions and fifth seeds also slipped to a 21-15, 12-21, 21-17 defeat at the hands of Gao Ling and Huang Sui.

MKSPORTSSHORTS

Pickering faces the best

CRAIG Pickering will take part in the biggest race of his short career this weekend, at the World Championships in Osaka.

With the possibility of running against the fastest men in the world including Tyson Gay and Asafa Powell, Pickering is not setting his heights too high.

He said: "I think that might be taking it a little bit too far to talk of me reaching the individual final but my target is definitely to make the semi-finals. Then, if I am in the semi-finals, I can have as big a pop as possible at making the final. But I would be happy with a semi-final spot...I think."

The Championships start this Friday, coverage starts on BBC2 at 11.05pm.

Lions lose to yanks

MK Lions' friendly against American opposition San Jose State Spartans ended in defeat.

The Gaffer makes a fair point about time-wasters

Welcome grapple fans: Keith Andrews is wrestled to the ground by Macclesfield's number eight Francis Green

MK DONS boss Paul Ince believes his former club, Macclesfield Town, got their 'just desserts' when his side scored an equaliser in the fifth minute of injury time.

The Moss Road crowd reacted angrily when the fourth official signalled five minutes of extra time and Colin Cameron's thunderous strike stole the Dons a last-minute point.

But Ince slammed goalkeeper Tommy Lee for his time-wasting antics when the Silkmen were 3-1 up.

He said: "When you think about it five minutes of injury time is a long time, but saying that the Macclesfield goalkeeper was taking liberties.

"He was time-wasting, if the referee had booked him early doors he wouldn't have done that.

"But at the end of the day the five minutes were down to him so he got his just desserts."

Although his side lost the lead and were forced to chase the game in the second half, Ince was impressed that the team fought right to the final whistle.

He said: "On the positive side we showed great team spirit, great togetherness and desire to get ourselves back in the game.

"Overall it was important that we got something from the game because of all the stick I was getting it would have been a nightmare going home with no points!

"I thought our travelling fans were fantastic, they kept cheering throughout, so I'd like to pat them on the back for that."

Looking ahead to the weekend game against Shrewsbury, Ince is hoping the fixture does not prove as hot tempered as it has previously, he said: "We've just got to keep cool heads because we're still looking for that first win.

"Shrewsbury have started off really well, two games on the bounce, we've just got to keep playing how we want and how we are trying to play.

"We've told the lads 'if you keep performing the results will come'. At the moment we are only performing for part of the game."

While Ince admitted the Dons have not put a formal bid in for Wycombe striker Jermaine Easter, he is hoping to add one or two extra signings before the transfer deadline next Friday.

The Dons boss is currently running his eye over two attacking players, one a Brazilian, the other an Italian.

"Branco is from Brazil, he's been here two or three weeks now and another striker, Andrea Contaldi, has come from Italy for us to have a look at.

"They're not bad and have some nice qualities, so we'll make a decision soon."
